MY LIFE IN THE LAUGHTER BUSINESS

AN UNFORGETTABLE AND ENTERTAINING JOURNEY THROUGH YEARS OF LAUGHTER

From his first days on television with his father, humorist and TV personality, Herb Shriver, Wil has been making people laugh in professional show business.

His new show is a rich visual look at the art of creating comedy. His stories and collection of video clips are guaranteed to bring a smile to everyone's face.

What really makes people laugh?

COMEDIAN

His clean, clever and offbeat take on life continues to entertain audiences in top venues from coast to coast, and on the Miami radio's BIG 105.9 with Paul and Ron.

Wil has made over 50 TV appearances with David Letterman, Jay Leno, and Johnny Carson and even hosted his own Emmy nominated national talk show, The Wil Shriner Show in 1987.

He then went on to host dozens of other series throughout the nineties, never giving up his love of stand up comedy sharing the stage with the likes of Joan Rivers, Jerry Seinfeld, Jeff Foxworthy, Kevin Nealon, Loretta Lynn, Tom Jones, Bobby Collins, Neil Sedaka, John Denver, Tony Bennett and Jay Leno.

LAUGHTER ON THE ROAD

Wil has produced dozens of USO shows.

He has a lifetime of stories to share with audiences

He spends time on road teaching his son, Nik, a 3rd generation comedian, about comedy.

PRODUCER AND DIRECTOR

His behind the camera work has been very rewarding as well. Doing a large launch event for Microsoft brought Wil into contact with Bill Gates who took a liking to his candid style and hired him to write and direct a comedy video on his retirement from Microsoft. It has been viewed by millions in Bill's keynote addresses. Wil says if he can make Bill Gates funny he can do it for anyone.

Corporate Speaker

Wil is considered to be an authority on many forms of humor in the media. Let him explain how humor creates a more productive corporate environment, how it strengthens team building and breaks down barriers in the workforce getting greater results through a lighter approach to life's challenges.
